

Crowley Liner Org 025816 Tariff 001	Date Filed: 5/31/2019
Rule Name: CHASSIS OR WHEELS USAGE CHARGE	Date Effective: 6/1/2019
	Revision: 1 Publishing Code: R
A Chassis or Wheels Usage Charge will be applicable (and assessed as a separate line item on the Bill of Lading) on all USA Import or Export Cargo for shipments within scope of this tariff as follows: a) When the carrier does not perform the drayage and supplies a chassis or wheels, the chassis/wheels charge of: $20.00 per container/trailer per day will apply on Import or Export cargo. b) When the carrier performs drayage/inland move to any point in the U.S., except the points/cities currently covered by the Local South Florida Drayage, then the carrier will assess in addition to the drayage / inland charge a chassis/wheels charge of: $20.00 per container/trailer per day on Import or Export Cargo. c) When Local South Florida drayage is performed by the Carrier, the Carrier will assess, in addition to the Local South Florida Drayage, a chassis/wheels charge of: $10.00 per container/trailer on Import or Export Cargo. (Charge applies even when drayage is included in the ocean rate) Cuba Exception: When the carrier uses a Crowley chassis or wheels to/from Cuba, the chassis/wheels charge of: $150.00 per container/trailer will apply on Import or Export cargo. NOTES: 1) If the container moves to a customer door and then ultimately returns out with export cargo and the chassis was not interchanged at a CY facility, then the customer is only assessed for the chassis charge once on the Import load. 2) If the container moves to a customer door, is stripped then sent to a CY facility (interchanged), and at a later date is returned to the customer door for the export load, customer will be assessed chassis charge for the Import as well as Export load. 3) If a customer comes to pick up a container with their own tractor & chassis/wheels, then there is no charge. 4) Free time and per diem charges will continue to apply as per carrier current tariff provisions.	