1. Where no package specifications are prescribed in the individual rate items in this tariff, the articles or commodities will be packaged adequately so as to protect the article or commodity from any damage in the ordinary handling and stowage.
2. Any single article which, from its very nature, may be shipped without boxing, crating or wrapping and without danger of damage by ordinary handling and stowage, will be considered as a "suitable package."
3. When any individual rate items in this tariff specifies any specific method of packing, the rates named in that item will only apply to articles or commodities so packed.
